Meeting with Bruce Ward and Chuck Leavell

- They would like to inform the Secretary of the accomplishments and plans for their TV series for PBS, titled America's Forests with Chuck Leavell. Their episodes to date, aired over 40 times on stations across the country, have developed as a result of our partnerships with the US Forest Service, Natural Resources Conservation Service, the US Endowment for Forestry and Communities and many other private sector supporters. The first two episodes featured Oregon and Colorado and we just finished filming in South Carolina.

- They would also like to provide an opportunity to involve the Secretary in helping them focus future programs on Department priorities related to our forests. They would welcome the Secretary's input and suggestions for the upcoming episodes.

provide an update on credit conditions for farmers. As I mentioned, we are monitoring the situation closely and believe there are a number of farmers who will not be able to continue through the loan renewal process this year. We hope to provide the Secretary and his team insight into the situation and have a discussion about what we expect this year and beyond.

OGE Attendees:

OGE Director, Emory Rounds

Shelley Finlayson, OGE's Chief of Staff.

Brief meetings between Cabinet Secretaries and new incoming OGE Directors are a standard practice and, at USDA, the Director of the Office of Ethics and General Counsel usually attend to assist the Secretary at such meetings.

At USDA, we have a great story to tell OGE because -- under Secretary Perdue's leadership -- we have already implemented several first-in-government Ethics initiatives benefitting the Executive Branch.

Here's a partial list:

- USDA's Ethics App, a first-in-government innovation;
- Ethics Moments and Ethics One-Pagers at SubCabinet Meetings and other Mission Area leadership meetings;
- 26 Ethics videos (located on USDA's YouTube page and the USDA webpage), including:
 - o The Executive Branch's first animated "Ethics Illustrated" video;
 - o The Executive Branch's first White House's Ethics Pledge videos for political appointees across the Executive Branch;
- Another first-in-government innovation, "Virtual Ethics Moments" (providing advice to USDA employees across the country); and
- The Office of Ethics led USDA's fourth annual Ethics & Science Conference – at no cost – bringing together ARS Associate Area Directors from around the country enhancing collaboration among scientists and Office of Ethics staff.

Agenda - Execut... Brief.docx

The purpose of the AgVantage Executive conference is to bring "C" level ag-professionals together in one place to network and collaborate on what's the next technologies on the horizon, and then how can AgVantage Software and their executive team help deliver solutions for those needs. This event creates a special connection between Ag-businesses and Ag-technologies. It's more intimate and engaging than any other conference in the industry.

PRESS COMPONENT (OPEN/CLOSED) - Assuming Sonny speaks at the conference, we could perhaps use The Nest meeting room at The Willard immediately after his speech. I will follow any instructions you Pheasants Forever's Pheasant Fest 2019 in Schaumburg, IL. They expect to have nearly 25,000 attendees over the weekend and would be honored to have you deliver a keynote address at our Saturday, Feb 23 evening banquet at 8PM. Approximately 1000 of their members and supporters from around the country will be gathered that evening to celebrate our previous year's conservation accomplishments including the new Farm Bill. They have also offered a walk-through on the show floor to visit various vendors and to experience first-hand the success of our technical assistance partnership by visiting the landowner help room and witnessing how our jointly-funded Farm Bill Biologists and agency partners at the Farm Service Agency and Natural Resources Conservation Service assist farmers and ranchers in meeting their habitat and financial goals.

Background on Breakout Sessions

- Location: A White House State Floor Room TBD (either Red Room, Blue Room, Green Room, or State Dining Room – more guidance will be provided next week)
- Time Length: Each breakout session will last approximately 50 minutes.
- Participation: Each breakout session will have 8-12 governors along with 4-6 Federal Officials (Cabinet Members, White House Senior Staff) participating.
- Goal: The goal of the breakout sessions to have a productive two-way dialogue in an informal setting on a shared State-Federal priority.
- Run of Show: More guidance will come next week The breakout session will have facilitator (a White House staffer) but each Federal Official and Governor will be expected to participate in the conversation.
- Media: There will be NO media in the breakout sessions.
- Room Set-Up: Room will be set-up with chairs in a circle with no tables. The intention of the set-up is to be informal.
- Preparing Principals: White House Intergovernmental Affairs will host a briefing call for staff preparing their principal next week along with providing a one-pager on the breakout session and run of show. A principal will not be asked to give a prepared set of remarks, but rather principals should be prepared to ask questions of governors and contribute to the conversation.

2:30 PM - 3:00 PM

Meeting with Feeding America's CEO, Claire Babineaux-Fontenot -- 200A

She would like to discuss the important, longstanding partnership between USDA and Feeding America. As the third largest nonprofit in the United States, Feeding America is the USDA's biggest partner in delivering the nation's federal nutrition programs, and their network provides more meals to children, families and seniors than any other domestic hunger-relief organization. Last year, their food banks and agency partners provided 4.8 billion pounds of food to 46 million people in all 50 states, Washington, D.C. and Puerto Rico, including 12 million children and 7 million seniors.

Attendees:

Kate Leone, Feeding America

Carrie Calvert, Feeding America
