Dr. Schechtman (retiring from USDA) briefing

His office has responsibility for coordinating biotechnology policy for USDA. One of the key efforts, AC21 (described below), is a Federal Advisory Committee; he is the Designated Federal Official. Dr. Schechtman wants to brief the Secretary on the efforts of AC21 (and all other biotech responsibilities) noting that they have received info from the Civil Rights office on renewing the Charter and need to know how to move forward. Dr. Schechtman will lead the US delegation to Italy starting June 12 and then will be on leave for two weeks prior to retiring on July 7. He has prepared briefing materials for "all things biotech" and would like to transfer the information prior to his departure.

The Advisory Committee on Biotechnology and 21st Century Agriculture (AC21) was originally established in February, 2003 and first met in June, 2003. Under its Charter, the committee is charged with examining the long-term impacts of biotechnology on the U.S. food and agriculture system and USDA, and providing guidance to USDA on pressing individual issues, identified by the Office of the Secretary, related to the application of biotechnology in agriculture. The AC21 is a broad-based committee representing a wide range of interests and agricultural expertise.

The Stoneville Experiment complex was started in 1904 to address challenges in Delta agriculture by Mississippi State University.

*As the years, and the challenges, grew, federal research programs assisted State scientists in efforts to be more profitable.

*The idea for a federal weed control lab to complement and cooperate with State programs was conceived in 1961, and shortly thereafter in 1964, programs in insect control and cotton physiology.

*In 1971, the completion of the Jamie Whitten Building cemented the physical presence of USDA-ARS at Stoneville and the research programs continued to grow.

*Its primary mission began as a cotton research center for the Mid-South, but it grew to encompass all Southern row crops. (Corn, cotton, soybean, rice, and catfish)

*The Mid-South Cotton Ginning Laboratory was established in Stoneville.

Friday

*Other components of USDA were established here - including USDA-APHIS and USDA-Forest Service - the Center for Bottomland Hardwoods Research. Also located at Stoneville are the MS Department of Agriculture and Commerce, the regional Water Management District, and Delta Council.

*The establishment of the Cochran National Warmwater Aquaculture Center in 1988 focused on the burgeoning U.S. farm-raised catfish industry in a partnership, again, with MS State University.

*Biotechnology disciplines became more important at the turn of the century. The establishment of the National Biological Control Laboratory in 2003 underscored this focus on a changing agricultural sector.

*Today, the Stoneville Research Complex has a $60M budget, 500 employees, 158 ph.d scientists, and over 150 advanced degree technicians supported by technicians and other support staff.

*From its beginnings as a cotton research facility focusing just on Mississippi, Arkansas, and parts of Louisiana, today USDA-ARS in Stoneville is the headquarters for 13 states in the Southeast.

*The people who comprise the USDA-ARS family are the bedrocks of our churches, our youth programs, our schools, our Chambers of Commerce, our civic clubs, and all of the efforts that go into making our communities better. The people in the Delta are proud of Stoneville and the presence of such an important research hub in their backyard that has a positive impact daily on our biggest industry - agriculture.

Hi Lauren,

I wanted to reach out about setting up a visit for my boss and Secretary Perdue. It's my understanding that Secretary Perdue wanted to find time for them to sit down and get to know each other. Apparently they have a lot in common — both farmers, pilots (helicopter pilots, specifically), veterinarians, etc. so this wouldn't be a policy meeting, but more of a "social" meeting.

Thanks!

Chris—

For the past year, I have had a U.S. Army officer, MAJ Jason Woodward, detailed to my staff as part of our partnership with the Command and General Staff College. MAJ Woodward departs in the middle of July.

Do you think we can schedule a moment with the Secretary to thank MAJ Woodward for his service and snap a photo? It would mean a lot to him. I have not said anything to Jason about this possibility.

Attendees:

And Brian Cavey, SVP of Government Affairs

CoBank came up during the meeting with Jeff Hall , thus why I am reaching out. I talked to FCA Board Member Jeff Hall and his staff, Kevin Kramp, earlier this week and they were updating us on how the meeting with Secretary Perdue went. I am sure that you are aware that CoBank has been in discussions on some investment pieces with USDA in the past. In order to answer any and every question that you might have and if it would be helpful for us to brief you on some of these things, we would love the opportunity to sit down with you. Secondly, Tom Halverson, our new CEO, would appreciate the opportunity to meet with Secretary Perdue and introduce him to what our mission and goals are as we move into harder times in agriculture but also a constrained budget.

Topics: Farm Credit, rural infrastructure financing options, and just an introduction to the organization.

If he could be here by 9 AM and tell him to come to the Pastors reception area (he knows where that is) and we will get together. Then, the service starts at 9:30. He will be up to speak by 10 AM and can have whatever time he desires. 35-45 min is usually what we do. We will dismiss around 11 AM and then if he desires to greet people, that will be fine. We can eat a brunch/lunch meal about 11:15 or so. I would say he would be ready to depart by noon or a little after. Then the afternoon, he could be at the downtown park about 5:45 to start our service/concert there about 6 PM. After he welcomes the crowd, they could feel comfortable leaving any time they desired. If we need to provide a room for them for the afternoon or night, let me know.

The main thing I need to know is how many for lunch and if they have food preferences. WE will fix whatever they want.

This is part of a new C-SPAN series, airing Sunday nights @ 6:30 & 9:30 pm ET-PT titled 'The Appointees.' The goal: To learn about the life stories of key White House staffers, Cabinet Members and Administration officials. So far they have done: Transportation Secretary Chao, OMB Director Mulvaney, Omarosa Manigault & Sarah Huckabee Sanders

We covered his confirmation hearing, as well as many of his STATE OF THE STATE addresses in Georgia, and really think our audience would enjoy the chance to know him better.

My approach with all of these Interviews is the same: to learn about their lives and careers.

Typically we need 45 minutes/ 1 hour to set up. The interview itself runs approx. 20 minutes.

general thoughts and outlook on:

- 2017/2018 priorities for the department
- Farm bill reauthorization
- NAFTA renegotiation
- GE labeling (including the timeline for a proposed rule)

Noon – Q&A from the NCA board members

I suspect our members' questions will be related primarily to the farm bill (and the U.S. sugar program specifically), GE labeling and the Trump Administration's support for manufacturing jobs and economic growth. I also think that it is important to highlight for the Secretary that two-thirds of our members are small and midsize multi-generational family-owned businesses.

Lunch will be available beginning at 11:15 a.m.; I hope the Secretary will feel free to come early and to eat with us.

- Invited to speak for 20 minutes with Q&A afterwards
- Interested in hearing general thoughts and outlook on 2017/2018 priorities for the department, Farm Bill reauthorization, NAFTA renegotiation, GE labeling (including the timeline for a proposed rule)
